The screenshot shows a mobile browser interface for the Google Account management page. At the top, the status bar shows the time as 17:41 on Tuesday, 22 September, and the battery level at 84%. The browser's address bar displays 'myaccount.google.com'. The Google Account header includes the 'Google Account' logo, a search bar, and a profile icon labeled 'R'. A black arrow points from the text 'Please remember to always log out' to this profile icon. The left sidebar contains navigation links: Home, Personal info, Data & personalisation, Security, People and sharing, and Payments and subscriptions. The main content area features a welcome message, a 'Manage your Google Account' button, and sections for 'Privacy & personalisation' and 'We keep your account protected'. A modal overlay on the right side of the screen displays the account name, a 'Manage your Google Account' button, an 'Add another account' option, and a 'Sign out' button. The 'Sign out' button is highlighted with a light blue background. At the bottom of the modal, links for 'Privacy Policy' and 'Terms of Service' are visible.
